

The smartphone boom means greater mobility for businesses. As a tool to enhance productivity, it requires commitment at every level of the company: in-house responsibilities, coordination of a host of individuals, management of technology and costs.

In response to these issues, Econocom has created mobileasy by Econocom. In return for a single fee, this solution offers all users the terminal best suited to their activity and all the services necessary to guarantee its availability.

Support the company in its mobility strategy

- Provision of devices appropriate to the activity of the company
- A customized catalogue of hardware and services
- Responsibility for supply of all elements in the configuration (smartphones, licences and subscriptions, SIM cards)
- Availability of the expertise and tools required for effective management of mobile assets and their evolution

Industrialize availability
